AN EDUCATION THAT NURTURES FREEDOM: WHAT IS THE GOAL OF SCHOOLING?

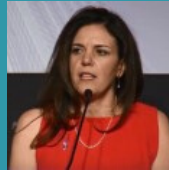

125 Maiden Lane, Suite 15E, NYC

A CROSSROADS CULTURAL CENTER PRESENTATION WITH

ROOSEVELT MONTÁS

SENIOR LECTURER IN AMERICAN
STUDIES AND ENGLISH, COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY

MARGARITA MOONEY

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF
CONGREGATIONAL STUDIES AT PRINCETON THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY

What should be our goal in educating human beings? We hear frequently about “preparation for the future,” and “college and career readiness.” But is there an overarching purpose that can offer unity to an educational endeavor, and guide our work as we develop curricula, practice pedagogy, and enter into the day-to-day life of learning and schooling?

In order to consider these questions, we have to know what kind of things human beings are. We invite Roosevelt Montás and Margarita Mooney to share their thoughts regarding what education looks like when conceived of as the context in which the freedom of a human being is drawn out, nurtured and allowed to develop and flourish.

THE EVENT IS OPEN TO THE PUBLIC AND FREE OF CHARGE. LIGHT REFRESHMENTS TO FOLLOW.
